Long-Serving Queens County Administrative Judge to Retire

Queens, New York – Hon. Jeremy S. Weinstein, who joined the Queens County bench in 1994 and served as Administrative Judge for Civil Matters in the Eleventh Judicial District (Queens County) for the past decade, will retire on August 30, 2019. Over the course of his tenure as Administrative Judge, the State Supreme Court in Queens County has become a model for effective civil case management.

Throughout his distinguished judicial career, Judge Weinstein has assumed a variety of leadership roles, at one point wearing the dual hats of Administrative Judge of both the Civil and Criminal Terms of State Supreme Court, Queens County. He began his judicial tenure on the borough's Civil Court bench, acting as Supervising Judge of the Queens County Civil Court from January 1997 until his election to State Supreme Court, Queens County, in November 1999.

Prior to becoming a judge, he served in the New York State Senate for 14 years, sitting on the Senate's Judiciary Committee and Crime and Corrections Committee, and chairing its Democratic Task Force on Crime. Previously, he was a Deputy Assistant Attorney General of the State of New York and Associate Counsel to the Speaker of the New York State Assembly.

Judge Weinstein is a native New Yorker and graduate of Queens County's Jamaica High School and York College. At York College, he was the first to be elected as president of the school's student body.

"On behalf of Queens County and the Unified Court System, I am immensely grateful to Judge Weinstein for his longstanding service to the County's judicial bench and vital contributions as Administrative Judge, including his role in the implementation of case management strategies and other reforms that have significantly improved the delivery of civil justice in the borough. I will miss working with Judge Weinstein and wish him the best in all his future endeavors," said Chief Administrative Judge Lawrence K. Marks.
