Developmental Disabilities Residences:

Since 1974, Catholic Charities has operated community residences to help individuals achieve their highest level of functioning and to participate as fully as possible in the surrounding community. As they are able, residents participate by doing their share of the household chores, such as laundry, cleaning, and meal preparation. There is plenty of opportunity for recreation, socialization, and religious observance, if desired. Men and women at the residences participate in sports, day trips, beach outings, concerts, and other events of their choice. All residents participate in day programs and sheltered workshops that offer socialization, recreation, vocational activities, and other services. Some individuals even maintain competitive employment in the community.

A residence manager handles administration, daily management, planning of recreational activities, and maintenance at each house. Residence nurses oversee all medical care. Staff also ensure safety and a homey environment where individuals are treated with dignity and respect.

Dentists That Accept Medicaid

Due to the problems of billing and getting paid by the government, there aren't many dentists that accept Medicaid, but a few do. This means that a senior with no dental insurance may still be able to get the dental care needed. To find a dentist that accepts Medicaid, go to:
https://www.health.ny.gov/diseases/aids/general/resources/dental_resource_directory/medicaid_medicare.htm or call the Department of Health at 1-866-881-2809 they may be able to provide additional information.

Stony Brook University, P: (631)632-8989;
NYU College of Dentistry, P: (212) 998-9856
Columbia University, P: (212)305-4511.

Elderly Pharmaceutical Assistance Program (EPIC)

EPIC is the name of the State Pharmaceutical Assistance Program in New York. New York is one of the 23 states that have such a program to assist seniors with their prescription drug. For information and eligibility requirements visit:

Low Cost Prescription Drugs

Despite the advent of Medicare Part D, and certain state run assistance programs such as EPIC (outlined above), there are still many seniors that cannot afford their medications. This is why most manufacturers of prescription drugs provide assistance for those who cannot afford their medications. A comprehensive list of these programs is provide by the Partnership for Prescription Assistance as well as the steps to follow to apply for assistance. For information on Patient Assistance programs visit:

<https://www.pparx.org/en/gethelp>

Another cost saving strategy is to make the switch to generic drugs:

The Food and Drug Administration says: "Generic drugs are important options that allow greater access to health care for all Americans. They are copies of brand-name drugs and are the same as those brand name drugs in dosage form, safety, strength, route of administration, quality, performance characteristics and intended use." Generic drugs cost about 50%-80% less than their brand name equivalents. * Please consult your physician before making the switch*

Another option for those with no insurance:

Obtain a prescription drug discount card. These cards, which should be free provide savings from 45%-80% on your prescription drug costs and are ideal for those with no insurance.

To obtain a free card go to <http://www.StuffSeniorsNeed.com/card>

Free Cell Phones or Discounted Phone Service:

Lifeline is a federal government program for qualifying low-income consumers designed "to ensure that all Americans have the opportunities and security that phone service brings, including being able to connect to jobs, family and emergency services."

Because of caregiver assistance older persons with chronic illnesses or disabilities are able to remain in their own homes in the community. Some local programs also assist grandparents and other older relative caregivers of children and promote the retention of the children in a nurturing family environment instead of placement in foster care. Informal caregivers are an invaluable resource to their loved ones and to the health care system because of the care they provide.

EAC, Nassau Visitation Programs:

175 Fulton Avenue

Suite 402

Hempstead, NY 11550

P: (516) 292-4186

<https://eac-network.org/supervised-visitation/>

EAC, Nassau Supervised Visitation allows children to continue, rebuild, or establish a relationship with their non-custodial parent without being placed in the middle of their parents' conflict and/or other issues, which results in children having a better chance at being responsible citizens and developing healthy attachments, and allows custodial parents to have comfort knowing their children's interaction with the non-custodial parent is safe. Besides standard supervised visitation, SV also offers therapeutic and coached family visitations.

EAC, Nassau Enhanced Supervised Visitation (ESV) is offered to families involved with the Department of Social Services and/or the foster care system. In addition to providing supervised visits, ESV specifically focuses on enhancing parenting skills by providing assistance, encouragement, information, and coaching to parents during visits. Family Coaches engage and empower parents to be experts on their own children; they are encouraged to identify, understand, respond to their children's needs, and have fun with them.

EAC Nassau Family Treatment Court Supervised Visitation (FTCSV) is by referrals only from Family Treatment Court in cases where parents have been found neglectful as a result of alcohol and/or substance abuse. Because the FTCSV office is located in Family Treatment Court, intakes are completed immediately after a judge makes the visitation mandate, and visits are able to be scheduled within a week. Rather than held at the SV facilities, FTCSV supervised visits take place either at the family's home or at a community/public location such as a library or restaurant. In a few rare cases, the Department of Social Services will host a supervised visit.

Additionally, FTCSV offers monitored visits: rather than EAC Network staff acting as supervisor, staff personally check in with court-appointed supervisors who are conducting the supervised visits.

The legislation that created the Department of Financial Services, known as the Financial Services Law, was introduced as part of Governor Andrew M. Cuomo's 2011 budget. The Governor's purpose in consolidating these two agencies and creating the Department of Financial Services or DFS is to modernize regulation by allowing the agency to oversee a broader array of financial products and services, rather than the previous system of limiting regulation to services provided by only certain types of institutions. As of October 3, 2011 the New York State Banking Department and the New York State Insurance Department are abolished and the functions and authority of both former agencies transferred to the New York State Department of Financial Services. The department supervises state-chartered banks, handles or refer problems and complaints about other types of financial institutions as well answer general questions about banking and consumer credit.

Elder Abuse is a hidden crime and takes on many forms that can include:

Physical abuse, Emotional abuse, Sexual abuse, Neglect and Financial exploitation

In elder abuse cases the perpetrator is often well-known to the victim. The common profile of an offender is an adult child, grandchild, or other relative who is living with their aging parent or relative. Typically, these offenders are unemployed or underemployed, have mental health or substance abuse issues, and they rely on their older parent or relative for financial support and housing. Victims of elder abuse often do not want their loved ones arrested and prosecuted, but they want help for the offender and for the abuse to stop.

If you are an older adult who has been abused or someone you know is in trouble, call the Nassau

Catholic Charities of the Diocese of Rockville Centre began providing Care with Dignity in 1957, soon after the diocese became an entity separate from the Diocese of Brooklyn. There were two Catholic Charities offices then providing mental health and other services. Programs grew to serve people struggling with alcoholism and provide residences for people with developmental disabilities. Catholic Charities is now one of the major service providers of Long Island, with 629 employees, a budget of over $38 million, and 68 sites from Elmont to the East End. The agency served 63,904 people in 2013. Partnerships with 110 local parish social ministry programs make this level of service possible. Catholic Charities is in ongoing contact with parishes to identify needs and develop new ways of responding across Long Island.

As a not-for-profit, volunteer-based organization, The INN provides a broad variety of essential services to assist those challenged by hunger, homelessness and profound poverty. Programs offered: Soup Kitchen: The Mary Brennan INN soup kitchen in Hempstead is the largest soup kitchen on Long Island, serving 300-400 guests five days a week, most days of the year. Much of the food is donated by individuals, schools, religious and community groups, and businesses. Emergency Shelters: The INN operates 2 emergency shelters in Nassau County: one shelter is dedicated to providing temporary refuge for homeless families, and one provides temporary refuge to homeless men. Long-Term Housing: The INN provides 10 formerly homeless families with safe, affordable housing in the Long Term Housing Program throughout Long Island. These families receive case management services to assist them in reaching goals of self-sufficiency and independence. Supportive Services: The INN's model program focuses on the cause of homelessness, empowering families to become self-sufficient. Social workers work with volunteers and staff to provide residents in the Long-Term Housing Program with comprehensive supportive services including: counseling and case management, life skills training, tenancy and home management, educational tutoring for children and parents, and vocational training.

Children's Mental Health In-Home Services Through Health Homes, Care Management services work with children that have been diagnosed with a serious emotional disturbance (SED), complex trauma, HIV/AIDS or two chronic health conditions (i.e., asthma, diabetes, heart disease, high blood pressure, substance abuse, or obesity). Care Management works with the child/family and providers of services to identify service needs, developing an overall rehabilitation goal, and writing service plans with the child/family that include strategies and objectives to address their identified needs. Care management facilitates service delivery, including acquiring benefits, helping child/families make and keep appointments and assisting child/family in arranging needed behavioral health, physical health and psychiatric rehabilitation services and finding appropriate school placement, vocational training or employment.

Teaching Family Homes

Catholic Charities Teaching Family Homes serve children ages 5-18. A specially trained, live-in married couple teaches the skills necessary for children to live successfully in a family, attend school and live productively in the community. With continuous training and supervision, a therapeutic environment is maintained which allows for treatment and family style living. There is an emphasis on working closely with the child’s family to attempt to reunite the family upon the child’s discharge.

Community Residences

Family and Children’s Association – Lakeview House A residential program that provides a therapeutic milieu environment to adolescents ages 13-17 with serious emotional disturbance. It is an out of home placement that provides a structured therapeutic environment and restorative services to assist in stabilizing and maintaining their symptoms and behaviors of their mental illness and reunite the family upon discharge.

Mercy First – Merrick House

The Community Residence is staffed 24 hours a day with awake staff. It houses eight male youth ages 9-14 with serious emotional disturbances. Residents can learn the skills of emotion management and self-care that will enable them to return to their families. In addition, they work with staff on developing their independent living skills, socialization skills, behavior management, medication management, and more. Staff and youth continue to incorporate the Sanctuary Model into the fabric of the Merrick Community Residence program. This is accomplished by youth using Sanctuary tools and trauma sensitive interventions both in the residence and with their families at home.

Well Life Community Residence

The program provides an intensive therapeutic environment and restorative services including but not limited to behavior management, counseling services, independent living skills, daily living skills, socialization skills, medication management, health services and family support services. The goal of the program is to teach the youth necessary skills to be able to return home with their families or to community based placements.

CO Family of Services - Deer Park Community Residence

The program provides an intensive therapeutic environment through 24-hour coverage by staff trained in behavior management, child/adolescent development and the treatment of mental illness. Additional therapeutic linkages are provided through a strong community involvement with outpatient mental health settings, medical providers and educational/recreational settings. The goal of this program is to provide a structured, supportive and therapeutic environment that will equip these children with skills necessary to live at home or in a family like setting in the community. Co-Ed ages 13-17 years.

Residential Treatment Facility RTF

Nassau County has been addressing the opioid crisis on multiple fronts, one of them is educating its residents on the use of Naloxone, also known by the trade name Narcan. Nassau County residents, first responders and human service staff learn how and when to administer the lifesaving antidote that can reverse the fatal effects of an Opioid overdose and save a person's life. Our free Narcan trainings also offer community resources, speakers and information on the latest treatment approaches.

Nassau County Office of Mental Health, Chemical Dependency and Developmental Disabilities became certified as an Overdose Responder Program in late 2012, the first County Certified Program in the State, outside of New York City. Nassau County Office of Mental Health, Chemical Dependency & Developmental Disabilities Services has partnered with community agencies, colleges, local school districts, fire departments, libraries and religious organizations and has hosted more than 210 training events and has trained more than 9800 people on how to administer Narcan since its inception.

Naloxone Co-payment Assistance Program (N-CAP)

Under the New York State Department of Health's Naloxone Co-payment Assistance Program (N-CAP), individuals can access low-cost or no-cost naloxone at pharmacies across the state. At participating pharmacies, individuals with prescription coverage as part of their health insurance plan can receive up to $40 in co-payment assistance for the purchase of this lifesaving drug. Uninsured individuals and individuals without prescription coverage can receive naloxone at no cost through New York's network of registered opioid overdose prevention programs
